HARRIS COUNTY COMMUNITY SERVICES DEPARTMENT
OFFICE OF HOUSING AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

SECTION 504/ADA COMPLIANCE
SELF-EVALUATION & TRANSITION PLAN
GUIDEBOOK

Issued June 2008
Purpose
This guidebook is designed to assist Harris County sub-recipients of U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) funds in evaluating the current state of accessibility of their programs and activities to disabled participants and employees. More specifically, this guidebook is intended to assist organizations in their efforts to:

a) comply with HUD regulations implementing Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, including the preparation of a self-evaluation of all programs, activities, policies and procedures to determine areas of noncompliance, and

b) better understand the relationship between Section 504 and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

Introduction
Section 504 provides for equal opportunity to enter facilities and participate in programs and activities. It does not require that every facility or program be accessible. The important considerations are that disabled persons have the same opportunities in employment, the same opportunities to enter and move around in facilities, and the same opportunities to participate in programs and activities as non-disabled persons. Further, it is important to offer employment, programs and services in settings that are integrated rather than to segregate disabled persons with special programs.

Under Section 504, a self-evaluation plan is required of all recipients and subrecipients of federal funds. It also applies to any person to whom federal financial assistance is extended for any program or activity directly or through another recipient, including any successor, assignee, or transferee of a recipient, but excluding the ultimate beneficiary of the assistance.

Self Evaluation and Transition Plan
The self-evaluation survey instrument contained in this guidebook will help you to evaluate the degree of accessibility of your programs, activities, and facilities so that you can plan full program accessibility. Your self-evaluation must include a review of all HUD-funded functions of your organization, as well as some functions that may not be HUD-funded but is required to facilitate delivery of funded services, i.e. entry and exit into facilities to receive services, etc. Disabled individuals and/or organizations that represent disabled individuals should be included in the self-evaluation process. The self-evaluation must include an examination of:

- employment and personnel policies and procedures;
- the extent to which program and activities are readily accessible and usable by persons with disabilities;
- the extent to which the delivery of benefits and services are free from discriminatory effects on disabled persons; and
- the extent to which contractual arrangements are free from subjecting disabled persons to discrimination.

Through the self-evaluation process, the agency identifies and changes policies or practices that discriminate against qualified individuals with disabilities so that individuals with disabilities can participate fully in the agency's programs and activities.

This process should include:

A) A review the inventory of programs and activities conducted by the agency.

B) Collecting and documenting the policies and practices that govern the administration of the agency's programs and activities. An agency's policies may be in the form of regulations, administrative manuals, memoranda, or simply be a matter of customary practice. Some policies may not be written down at all. It is important that this review be complete, both to ensure that all relevant policies are identified and to enable the agency to identify potential problem areas when no policy exists.

C) Analyzing how the agency’s policies and practices affect individuals with disabilities who seek to participate in the agency’s programs and activities. In this analysis, the agency must take into account the fact that discrimination can happen not only as a result of what is in its policies, but also as a result of what is not in its policies.

D) Making and documenting changes and additions to agency policy. The changes required by the self-evaluation process should not require an extended period of time to complete.

E) Obtaining comments on the draft self-evaluation from individuals with disabilities and other interested persons. Based on these comments, the self-evaluation should be revised as necessary, put in final form, and fully implemented. Periodically, it should be reviewed and updated to ensure that new policies are not discriminatory and disabled individuals continue to be able to participate fully in the agency’s programs.

The survey included in this workbook is designed to assist agencies in fulfilling the self-evaluation requirement. In developing answers to the survey questions, your agency will be preparing most of the information that Section 504 requires. It should assist you in pinpointing areas where action is likely to be required to achieve compliance with Section 504. It should be emphasized, however, that this survey is not intended as a substitute for your agency’s judgment or analysis of the pertinent regulations issued pursuant to Section 504. Any information in this survey cannot be used as a sole basis for determining compliance with Section 504. You are advised to review the Section 504 regulations at 24 CFR Part 8.

Upon completion of your self-evaluation and transition plan an agency must create and maintain a file documenting activities related to completing the self-evaluation, consultation with persons with disabilities or organizations representing persons with disabilities and development of the transition plan. This file should also include a copy of a completed self-evaluation reviewed by the agency’s board of directors and signed by an authorized official and the transition plan. This file should be readily available for inspection during any program monitoring visits conducted by Harris County or HUD.

Relationship of 504 to ADA
The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) prohibits discrimination on the basis of disability in employment (Title I), state and local government services (Title II), and places of public accommodation and commercial facilities (Title III).

The ADA extends the requirements of 504 to all activities of state and local governments under Title II, and under Title III, to “places of public accommodation” operated by private entities.

The requirements of ADA for places of public accommodation and state and local governments are based on, and are essentially the same as, the requirements of Section 504. Under Title II, state and local government entities are covered by the same standard as is used under Section 504 with respect to existing facilities. They must ensure that the services, programs and activities they offer are accessible to individuals with disabilities, but they may use alternative methods for providing access. However, compliance with Section 504 does not guarantee compliance with ADA.
The most rigorous physical accessibility requirements apply to new construction and alterations. The Department of Justice's ADA regulations adopt specific architectural standards for new construction and alterations. Places of public accommodation and commercial facilities covered by Title III must comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act Accessibility Guidelines for Buildings and Facilities (ADAAG). State and local governments may use either ADAAG or the Uniform Federal Accessibility Standards (UFAS), which is the standard used under Section 504.

Harris County's Enforcement of Section 504
Subrecipients of Harris County HUD funding agree to comply with Section 504 requirements in their contract with the County. The Harris County Community Services Department (HCCSD) takes enforcement of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, and the Americans with Disabilities Act seriously. If HCCSD discovers that a recipient is in noncompliance with Section 504 Regulations and/or ADA, the County has the authority to suspend and/or terminate funding.

The attached worksheets are to be used to gather information about the programs being administered by your section in order to conduct a self-evaluation of your areas compliance with Section 504.

Please read the instructions carefully and respond to the questions asked as thoroughly and concisely as possible.

Completion of this self-evaluation will provide management of a clearer picture of where we are in terms of 504 compliance and where we need to be to bring us closer to full compliance with these and other federal regulations associated with the programs the department administers.
